Hi Joyce

It is certainly not our intention that the property becomes an 'eyesore'

We are looking at whether there are any planning options for the reuse of the building for an alternative purpose.

If the parish has ideas of how it could help then I am happy to hear any proposals that you have.

Regards

Kathy

Dear Kathy

Does this mean that the toilets will stay there until they fall down and look an eyesore for years to come.

Is there any way that the Parish Council can help.

Regards

Joyce

Hi Joyce

Thank you for your email. although initially we had intended that this toilet block be demolished we may now struggle to organise this as we are unlikely to be able to use capital funding to undertake this work. There are rules around what we can use capital funding for which I had not fully understood.

Officers of the Borough are reviewing options for this property and in the meantime if possible we will try and organise that any signs that indicate the former use of the property are covered.

Dear Kathy

The Parish Council would be happy to take over looking after the site of Evelyn Street Toilets when the building has been demolished.

One Councillor has asked if the signs can be taken off the doors, so the public do not think these are toilets that can be used and then question why they are locked.

Joyce

Dear Kathy & Helen

At the Leisure & Amenities Committee meeting last night the future of the Evelyn Street toilets was discussed. The building is deteriorating badly and looks a real eyesore as you enter Old Town.

As the SBC has decided to close the toilets and the Parish Council have decided not to pay to keep them open, could you let the Parish Council know what you intend to do with the building.

If it is going to be demolished, then the Parish Council could be interested in maintaining the site as a flower bed, because of its prominence.

Regards

Joyce
